

OLD McDONALD'S FARM

A BIG BARGAIN.

The Finest Farm in Southern Indiana For Sale.

It has been rumored that the fine country home of Henry Profit, formerly known as the McDonald farm, a short distance north of the city limits, has been sold. This is a mistake. The place has not been sold but is for sale at a bargain, in fact, at a big sacrifice. This farm is considered one of the finest in this vicinity or in Southern Indiana. It is equipped with all modern improvements and its purchase will be a rare chance for some one to secure a fine country home at bargain figures. – New Albany Evening Tribune 30 January 1909, p. 4 col. 6
